Humbucker

RV-5760

Humbucking pickups came into the market during the late 1950's. This era of pickups are considered by most the "Holy Grail" of pickups. They achieved their legendary status and made their mark in history with multitudes of sublime performances. These pickups were manufactured only for a short period, making them extremely rare. However, their scarcity is not the only reason they are sought after by many players, but rather their unique tone and presence. This uniqueness separated them from other pickups, distinguishing them the "Holy Grail" of pickups.

Raw Vintage recreated these humbucking pickups using the same developmental approach for the RV-5661 and RV-6264 pickups. In the early stages of development, we spent significant amount of time collecting data, selecting key elements, recreating winding patterns and assembled many prototypes.

The magnet wire for the RV-5760 uses AWG-42 gauge plain enamel wire. The wires were layered with a unique and complicated pattern, engineered to recreate the characteristics of vintage humbuckers. These exclusive standards helped produced rich harmonics and touch sensitivity synonymous with pickups of that age.

We use Alnico 2 bar magnets. They are magnetized prior to joining with the coil-bobbin. During the magnetizing process, adjustments are made to ensure that the magnetic force is not saturated within the magnet and magnetic flux is stabilized using a unique process.

All the elements valuable to the vintage specifications are included in the RV-5760, including the nickel-silver base plate, hard maple wood spacer and Braided Shield Cable.

Similar to the vintage models, the optional pickup cover is made with a Nickel-Silver material. The coating is done "old-style", with pure nickel without the copper base. Available in Nickel or 24K gold and also in an aged appearance for both types.
